45th IEEE International Conference on Distributed Computing Systems 2025 (ICDCS' 25)

21 July - 23 July, Glasgow, Scotland

ICDCS 2025

ICDCS is the prestigious conference in the field of distributed computing systems. It offers a platform for researchers, academics, and professionals to present and discuss the latest research in the field. The conference covers important topics, including distributed learning, intelligence at the edge, federated learning, and more. Given the increasing global trend towards the adoption and integration of AI across various sectors, it becomes crucial to host conferences in this field. Such events play a significant role in advancing the domain and fostering collaboration among researchers, practitioners, and industry professionals. Additionally, they provide a platform to showcase the strength and vision of the University of Glasgow and the city of Glasgow.

Call For Sponsorship

On behalf of the Organizing Committee for the 45th IEEE International Conference on Distributed Computing Systems (ICDCS 2025), scheduled for 21-23 July 2025 in Glasgow, UK, we extend an invitation for your participation in the conference as a financial sponsor. ICDCS holds the distinction of being a top-tier international conference on Distributed Systems, catering to both academia and industry, with a strong emphasis on actively engaging early-career researchers. Recognized as the premier international gathering for current and future leaders and innovators in Distributed Systems, ICDCS is committed to fostering communication and knowledge transfer between researchers and practitioners. The conference aims to promote methods and technologies in areas such as Distributed AI, Distributed Optimization, Distributed RL, and Edge Computing.

Sponsors of ICDCS play a crucial role in contributing to the success of the conference and, in return, enjoy increased visibility among leading international researchers and PhD students. Your financial support will play a key role in maintaining affordable conference costs for students and enhancing the overall conference experience for participants worldwide. Additionally, as a sponsor, you will have the chance to spotlight your company and, consequently, attract exceptional candidates in the expansive fields of Distributed AI and Edge Computing.
